

In the meantime, please contact the parents and carers of your young people and also contact the young people themselves about arrangements for next week. I know many of you have already been planning on setting work by using your learning platforms and that you will need to work flexibly next week. This situation is dynamic and will remain so for the foreseeable future.

Thank you again for all of your help and support.

Yours sincerely

Jane Parfremment

Jane Parfremment
Executive Director